Arthur Wilson went to Woodburn this afternoon.

E. P. McCormack has returned from a short visit in Palouse City.

Ed and Harry Singleton returned from Turner this afternoon.

Guy M. Powers, agent of the O. R. & Co., at this city, returned today from Albany.

Rev. J. Muehlhaupt returned today from Seio, where he delivered a sermon yesterday.

Green B. Cornelius, of Shaw, W. A. Taylor and Clarence Simmer, of Macleay, were in town today.

W. H. Rambo, of Mill City, is the guest of his friend, Joe Fones. He will return home about Wednesday.

Messrs. Harritt & Olinger, the contractors, started yesterday for San Francisco, where they expect to enter into their business.

SOUTH SALEM.—The delegates chosen by the Democrats of South Salem were as follows: James Godfrey, W. G. Westcott, Al Pettijohn, W. W. Johns, A. P. Gordon, Frank Dearborn, S. G. Smith. These delegates to the Democratic county convention received 46 votes. Mr. W. G. Westcott, who is a strong free coinage man, will be pushed by this delegation for chairman of the convention.

ROAD CHANGE.—A number of gentlemen were before County Judge Hubbard today with a request, or petition, to change the Macleay road so as to obviate the bad hill on the land of Messrs. D. P. Junk and Leo Willis. By laying a new road to the north about 40 rods, the distance will not be increased, but the road made much better. The judge seemed favorable to any change that would get rid of a bad hill.

STARTS WELL.—A "court" of fifty members of Foresters of America has been organized by S. Wolf of Portland. The membership is rapidly filling up and the order is very popular.

INCORPORATED.—The Southwick Oil and Grease Co., of Oregon, stock $5000, filed articles today with the secretary of state.

THIS COLD WEATHER.—Makes one think of underwear. The New York Racket is selling all winter underwear at a great reduction to close out. 9 2t

A NEW BUSINESS.—E. F. Parkhurst has decided to launch into the agricultural implement business in Salem. He is a veteran in that line, and will open up business in the State Insurance building, in the room occupied by the Victor Railway company. Manager Derby will retain his office in the same room.

FOUND THE HORSE.—A week ago Thursday Thomas and Hester lost a pack mare loaded with a lot of copper plates and a sack of oats, worth about $40 in crossing the Canal Fork of South Santiam. She was swept down the stream and thought to be drowned. Mr. Riley Thomas got a letter from his partner E. C. Hester today that the mare Minnie was found alive and well with her pack. She was in pretty bad shape but will come out all right.

A boarding house is to be put in at the head of Rock creek.

NOTARIES.—R. M. Odell, of Portland, and Wm. McQuillan, of Hillsboro, were granted commissions today.

NEW CITIZEN.—Jacob Neubrecht, of German citizenship was granted his first papers as a citizen today.

Miss Flora Mason of Albany, arrived in the city Saturday and will be the guest of Miss Genevieve Hughes, on South High street, for the coming week.

SHAKESPEARE.
Don't forget President Chapman's lecture in Unity church on Tuesday night, when he will unfold the inner meaning of "The Tempest," a play which many think has no meaning.

MEN'S LEAGUE.
Don't forget the Men's League social at the Presbyterian church to-night at 8 o'clock. The main feature of the evening will be a spelling match. Light refreshments and a good time. Admission, 10 cents.

"COURT."
A court for the Foresters of America will be organized at Popular hall, Tuesday, March 10, at 7:30 p. m. This is one of the most popular orders in the world. It furnishes, free of charge to its members while sick, medical attendance and medicine and $7.50 each per week; $75 funeral benefits, and $40 at the death of a member's wife. There is also an insurance for its members, from $500 to $3000, which is optional. AFTERNOON TEA.
Ladies of Maccabees, Queen Hive No. 5, of this city, on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, served tea to about 150 of their friends, who enjoyed most heartily their pleasant hospitality. Their reception rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, and a most entertaining program was rendered, consisting of music and recitations by Misses Mabel Creighton, Metta Davis, Adda Irwin and Lelo Nicklin. Miss R. F. Smith delivered an excellent and interesting address.

The lodge is in a very prosperous condition, and has a membership of about 60, and applications for membership are being received continually. The order carries insurance on lives of members to the amount of $58,000.

A NEW BUSINESS.—E. F. Parkhurst has decided to launch into the agricultural implement business in Salem. He is a veteran in that line, and will open up business in the State Insurance building, in the room occupied by the Victor Railway company. Manager Derby will retain his office in the same room.

SALEM BURGLARIES.

A Plucky Housekeeper Fires Two Shots.

DRIVES AWAY THIEVES.

Residence of A. N. Bush and Huber's Bakery Entered.

A bold attempt was made last night to burglarize the residence of A. N. Bush, on the corner of Chemeketa and Capital streets. Mr. and Mrs. Bush were at their father's, Hon. A. Bush's, to spend the evening, and had left the housekeeper, Mrs. McCabe, in charge. Mrs. McCabe was sitting in a room on the north side of the house, facing Chemeketa street, until quite dusk. She noticed a couple of men standing on the opposite of the street for some time, but thought nothing of it. About 8 o'clock she heard a faint rap at the door, on the same side of the house, and started to answer the summons, but the two men had, in the meantime, opened the door and entered the hall. One of them asked if the man of the house was in. Supposing it was some one to see Mr. Bush on business, she replied that he was not. The man immediately demanded the keys to the silverware. Mrs. McCabe said she did not have them, and the man, in reply, said, "You know where they are," and commanded her to deliver them.

Though badly frightened, the housekeeper told them if they would remain where they were, she would get them. She then went to the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Bush and procured a revolver, and, returning to the hallway, leveled it at the men, and told them to go or she would shoot them. One of them said, "I guess I've got one of those in my pocket." At that Mrs. McCabe fired two shots and the men ran down the stairs and into the street. Mrs. McCabe then fastened the door; but, becoming nervous, concluded to sit on the steps and wait for someone to pass. There were no lights at any of the neighboring houses, the inmates probably being at church.

After sitting there about half an hour, she concluded to look around the house on the outside, and see if everything was all right. Accordingly, she passed out of the side gate and around the east side of the house on the sidewalk, and discovered the two men at work at one of the basement windows. She told them they had "better go," and at the same time fired two shots. The men then ran and jumped over the fence, and at the same time Ben Taylor, the postman, who was passing on the opposite side of the street, ran over and inquired what the trouble was. The men, in the meantime, had made their escape. Mr. Taylor then remained at the house until Mr. and Mrs. Bush returned.

Mrs. McCabe is a good shot and could have killed the men, but refrained, wishing only to frighten them away. She certainly showed a great amount of bravery in her action.

This is the third time within a year that attempts have been made to burglarize Mr. Bush's residence, but this is the most bold. His residence is one of the best in the city but no more extravagantly furnished than others in the neighborhood. In describing the men Mrs. McCabe said they were tall and of slender build, wore dark clothes, and as nearly as she could discern, wore outing cloth shirts and ties.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.
Last Wednesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the money drawer at Huber's baker, on Chemeketa streets near 12th was robbed in broad daylight. Mrs. Huber was at work in a room just back of the store room when she heard the faint tinkle of a bell. She was not certain whether it was a street car bell, the door bell at the next neighbor's, or the bell attached to her own door, which rings when the door is opened. Being busy, she listened a moment for steps and not hearing any noise did not go into the room at that moment, but a very short time later thought to make certain and looked into the store room. The outside door was open, which made her feel that a customer had just gone out, so she went to the street door, and saw two men passing down the street. They each wore gray overcoats, and were of medium build, one of them being lame. She did not speak to them, as they were about a half block distant, and did not look like any of her customers. About twenty minutes later, her daughter discovered that the money drawer was gone, while she was waiting on a customer. She asked her mother where it was, and then they discovered they had been robbed.

The drawer contained about $5 in money, and some bread tickets. The supposition is that the drawer was taken by someone leaning over the counter, as it is a narrow one, and they could not well have gone behind without making considerable noise.

A neighbor of the Huber's. Mr. Driver, said two men answering their description called at his house about 3:30, and asked for soap. One wore overalls and was of sandy complexion. When they left his house they went in the direction of the bakery.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Preparations for the Coming Campaign Going Ahead.

The Republicans of Scotts Mills (Garfield precinct) will hold the first rally of the season Monday, March 16 in the evening. Several legislative candidates will be present and speak.

The McKinley Republican club of South Salem will meet Saturday evening March 14 for club business. H. J. Bigger and others have been invited to address the meeting, and citizens of all parties are invited.

MOORES AND MCLEARY.

The challenge issued by R. B. Ryan and F. J. Beatty to C. B. Moores to meet the Populist champion, T. J. McCleary in a political discussion at Salem, March 19, is declined by Mr. Moores. Owing to our columns being crowded with other matters we cannot print the challenge and Mr. Moores' extended reply, which contains some good points and withering sarcasm. There will be no debate on the 19th at Salem.

AT RICKEY SCHOOL HOUSE.

The Republicans will hold a political meeting at the Rickey school house, Wednesday evening, March 11. Mr. E. Hofer has been invited to discuss the reforms in the legislature and our state government, and citizens of all parties are invited to come out. There will be opportunity given anyone to ask questions on public issues, as it is the desire of those calling the meeting to have the fullest discussion.

AT FRUITLAND.

On Thursday night, Geo. E. Allen, the subject of some Democratic resolutions, will speak to the people. All invited.

Spring Valley.

This usually quiet neighborhood has been disturbed much of late by thefts of chickens, wheat and bacon for sometime. Two families by names of Simons and Freel have been suspected for sometime. Saturday night at 11 o'clock parties went through Abe Helsey chicken house, but were disturbed. Next morning he followed the cart tracks to the house of one Freel who moved into Spring Valley sometime last year. The cart was there but the men and a lumber wagon were gone. The parties were followed and overtaken near Dayton. Helsey recognized some of his property and commanded them to return to Zena. He hitched his own horses to the load of poultry and tied the others behind and they returned to Justice P. E. Clark who issued warrants and search warrants. Search of the two houses disclosed wheat belonging to D. G. Henry, who had "salted" his wheat by mixing in buckwheat and popcorn. They also found a saddle stolen recently from T. B. Wait, of Salem. A toolchest of carpenter tools as good as new was found in the brush near Simon's house, when dark set in and search had to be stopped for Sunday. Freel who had charge of the chicken wagon confessed to stealing poultry. It has been their custom to make night raids on poultry houses and smoke houses with the cart and once a week sell a big load at Portland.

The discovery caused a great deal of excitement, and all the neighbors turned out today to hunt for stolen property on the premises. The two families lived up the canyon from the Clark place, quite secluded in the brush, and held a splendid place to operate from. The result of the investigation will be told in our next issue.
